DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract may not exceed 150 words in length, as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). Correction is required.

The disclosure is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71, as being nonstatutory description. The disclosure is totally informal and requires a complete review and redrafting to be put in proper form.

Applicant should be careful not to introduce any new matter into the disclosure (i.e., matter which is not supported by the disclosure as originally filed).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-16 are rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claims are totally informal and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

In summation, the claims are totally informal and hence non-statutory.

Allowable Subject Matter

A review of this application reveals that patentable subject matter exists. The retention of an attorney is therefore highly suggested.

Conclusion

The following prior art references made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Lusty (US 6,416,000), Canada (US 5,145,118), and Terrenzio (US 4,579,290).

An examination of this application reveals that applicant is unfamiliar with patent prosecution procedure. While an inventor may prosecute the application, lack of skill in this field usually acts as a liability in affording the maximum protection for the invention disclosed. Moreover, the value of any patent will depend heavily on the skill and expertise of the claim drafting. In the present form, neither the specification nor the claims would support a Letters of Patent. Applicant is advised to secure the services of a registered patent attorney or agent to prosecute the application. The value of a patent is largely dependent upon skilled preparation and prosecution. The Office cannot aid in selecting an attorney or agent.

Applicant is advised of the availability of the publication "Attorneys and Agents Registered to Practice Before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office." This publication is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.
